State Migrant Committee Meets Monday At Capital

Possible solutions to the problems of unemployed and hungry migrant agricultural workers may be forthcoming from a meeting of the Governor's migrant committee, scheduled for Monday at Tallahassee.

"Migrant problems are long-range in nature," Roberts said Wednesday. "Many states are working on the problem. All of us are trying to get the right answers and many hours have been spent on meetings and trips to look for the answers, he continued.

Roberts echoed the opinion of J. M. R. Griggs, chairman of the Belle Glade Emergency Migrant Committee, who said many felt there were no other ways to solve the problem of a permanent migrant labor committee to work out the problems instead of waiting until an emergency aid was needed from the federal authorities.

Roberts said the problem was complex since many communities wanted to work out their own problems, other communities would provide some assistance while still others wanted to place the problem before the federal authorities.

The state committee on migrants may recommend closer co-ordination among the state agencies such as health, sanitation and welfare departments.

"There is a possibility of a state appropriation to be administered through state welfare agencies which would co-ordinate the work of the several local committees."

A Glades committee might be able to take care of the usual number of cases which come up each year without such dramatic publicity, Roberts said. He pointed out that the state would be a reserve left over from this year's contributions which could be a fund for the future. A local group would be able to establish a fund, hold

Glades Juvenile Agent Speaks About His Big Assignment: Your Children

Editor's Note: This week The Herald begins a series of articles written by Assistant Juvenile Counselor for the Glades, Gene Duncan. These articles will explain what the job is, what the counselor must try to accomplish, and also provide some food for thought among the adult generation. As laws are passed, enforcement officials must have all the cooperation possible from citizens if a society is to function properly. In this and forthcoming articles, Duncan tells us frankly what can happen when certain members of that society fail to function according to law.

Juvenile delinquency is costing the state of Florida thousands of dollars. Is this money being spent wisely? Are we, as taxpayers, getting our money's worth? I hope that you will find the answers to these and other questions in my attempts to inform you of our activities.

Wading Pools Are Authorized By City Commission

Two 10 by 20 wading pools to be built at the present swimming pool site were authorized by the Belle Glade City Commission Wednesday night. The cost will be approximately $5,000 and funds are available.

Inspector L. L. Cunningham presented plans supplied by engineers, Russell S. Atch, which would place the pools within the city limits. The pools would graduate from 12 to 18 inches deep with adequate space in a 16 by 50 foot enclosure for parental supervision of the tots.

The council tabled a letter from the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce on several proposals set by the chamber's board of directors. (Herald, Feb. 21) Councilmen said the recommendations had merit; however, money was not available at present. Therefore, the problems were taken under advisement.

A pioneer resident of this city, Mrs. Malvina Des Lauriers passed away at the age of 91 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joe Friedheim early last Friday morning, after a long illness.

A native of Hycinth, Canada, she came to Belle Glade 36 years ago from Houston, Texas. Her husband, Pierre Des Lauriers came to South Bay in 1918 and farmed on a plot of land owned and she joined him several years later after first making a visit. He lost his life in the 1928 hurricane storm.

We Have Bureaucrats Too!

The eighth or ninth wonder of the world, we believe, is the control of so much water over so great an area in such that lands as is encompassed in the practical salutory effect of that part of the Overall Plan of Central & South Florida Flood Control District which has become effective.

It is necessary in democratic governments to encroach on the zone and ultimate of public spirited men, as directors, and the legislature provided staggered terms of Commissioners so that no Board would be composed entirely of men unacquainted with the history, mechanics and accomplishments. Politics have ruled that out, for there have been new boards with changing governors.

In seems impractical to secure a Board without some members who display human weakness, such as political arrogance and susceptibility to bureaucratic tendencies.

There are strong indications of both tendencies in actions and public utterances of the present Board of Central and Southern Florida Control Board, particularly, but not entirely, with regard to the Islands in Lake Okechobee.

As a public body, their financial actions are subject to audit by the State Auditor, and their actions are subject to discussion by the lowly taxpayer.

Admitting the complexities of the problem of equity to the island landowners in Lake Okechobee, as a result of the declaration that it is a Conservation Area, and is being used as one, we feel that their position has been misrepresented thru news releases from and on behalf of the Central & Southern Florida Board.

The owners were requested by Board Members NOT to air their negotiations in the press. This gentlemen's agreement was strictly adhered to by the Island Owners, while blarney of Board members and others presented on-side theirs—with the impression that land owners were interested only in getting "snouts" in the public trough.

The land owners and the Board position involves intricate legal interpretations of "slide-rule" desk engineering, and believe that a bit of statesman-like economics and less ideas of personal ownership of a public body and their functions might be in order.

However, ridiculous might be, the Board has a right to make whatever offer they want, which they have done at the direction of the State Board of Conservation.

A jump gun was offered at first in the information that the "wolves" could gulp it in degrees of voraciousness as abilities allowed.

Later at the insistence by the Board of Conservation in Tallahassee the offer allowed each owner to accept without regard to others, and landowners suggested a division percentage wise per acre as indicated by an appraisal by Frank Anderson.

Political omniscience is indicated on the part of the Board in the continued delays, excuses and stubborn insistence of an alleged appraisal of the value of individual ownership, that only makes reasonable men wonder.

The absurdity and unreasonableness of the individual figures will be discussed elsewhere in the Herald.

Some Counterfeit Bills May Be Circulating In Glades Area Bank Warns

By Thursday noon at least one counterfeit $20 bill has been discovered at a Belle Glade store. Florida National Bank at Belle Glade officials have alerted the Secret Service of the Treasury Department.

Russell Tucker at Florida National said the bank had been alerted some time ago to be looking for $10 and $20 bills which weren't genuine.

Ralph Edwards Nat'l Chairman Grins On Hearing Response To Heart Sunday

As tabulations from all over the nation come in from Heart Sunday Feb. 23, Ralph Edwards, radio and TV personality shows his pleasure in the returns.

The 1958 Heart Fund is to far exceed the 1957 all time high of $63,000, in Martin and Palm Beach Counties. Partial tabulation of Heart Sunday returns points to the most successful day in the history of the Heart Association of Palm Beach and Martin Counties.

"Over 1,500 volunteers visited homes in the association's area and the response has been gratifying to say the least," stated F. C. Ted Prior, county fund chairman. "I want to urge all residents who were not contacted to please mail in their contributions to 324 South Olive Ave., West Palm Beach as soon as possible. Illness depleted our volunteer ranks but the areas have all been more than well covered," he continued.

Mrs. Guy Wood, chairman of Belle Glade Heart Sunday committee reports $37,220 partial report which does not include mail in contributions. She anticipates well over the $500 mark.

Following are a volunteer workers for Heart Sunday under Mrs. Wood: Mesdames A. R. Whidden, F. C. Dooley, Beatha Markham, J. I. Freedlund, J. A. Ponder, Russell Tucker, Louise Kirklighter, Fred C. White, Barbara Munroe, Irvin Zump, Thomas Bregger, W. A. Theibaud, William Patricia Chambliss and Wayne W. Wood.

Mrs. Lester Hand and Mrs. W. A. Keen, co-chairman of Palm Beach report a splendid response.

Ruptured Men Get $3.50 Gift For Trying This

Kansas City Mo.—Here is an improved means of holding ruptures that has benefited thousands of ruptured men and women in the last year.

Inconspicuous, without leggings, elastic belts, body encircling springs or kink pads, it has caused many to say, "I don't see how it holds so easy, I would not have believed, had I not tried it."

So comfortable... so easy to wear—it could show you the way to joyous freedom from your rupture trouble.

You can't lose by trying. It is sent to you on 30 days trial. You receive a $3.50 special truss as a gift for making this trial.

Write for descriptive circular. It's free. Just address Physician's Appliance Company, 3601 Koch Bldg., 2806 Main, Kansas City 8, Missouri.

But do it today before you lose the address.

THE GLADES IS THE PLACE TO SHOP

KEEP THE LIFELINE WORKING

A steady stream of traffic thru a sleepy little town never wakes it up. It is when the traffic stops, enters the shops and purchases are made that commerce thrives. Do you pass the "little" places in search of what is right here in your own back yard? It may be considered smart to go on extended shopping tours to buy your fashions and fancies, but it is smarter still to stop and check to see if those fads and fancies aren't right here in the shops around the corner from you. And . . . you will be pleasantly surprised!

BUY-RIME Directory Merchants are well aware of the trends. When you buy your wants and needs from them, they see to it that the things you desire are there for you.

Only by your buying can they stock good "buys." Favor them — and yourself — with your purchases, and your own satisfaction will grow as they grow.

They care to tell the very best . . . Do you care enough to try?

Should the "Hidden Slogan" be: "Come in and browse at your leisure. We stock our shelves for your pleasure."

C & S F Board's

The Board of C & S F, the Island Board of Conservation District, which includes every landowner, decided to take their case to the Board of Conservation in Tallahassee where they found open minded willingness to listen to arguments for equitable treatment.

Numerous trips and endless conferences with individual Board members followed by verbal strictures of actions of the West Palm Board by the Tallahassee Board.

Finally, after the Tallahassee Board held over funds because of the normal date of revision to the general fund, and following instructions of the Board of Conservation in Tallahassee, the C & S F Board submitted an offer of $1,037,000 total for the islands, plus a three year lease to the present owners at $1.00 per acre rent, with an additional purchase price as anticipated purchase price as annual rental.

The West Palm Board submitted an appraisal of each of individual's property, the total of which makes up the $1,037,000 as the proposed basis of settlement.

The Tallahassee Board also forced C & S F to make its offer so that those who wanted to accept might do so without prejudice to others.

The Island landowners suggested that the $1,037,000 be prorated percentage-wise the same as the values contained in the appraisal of Frank Anderson of West Palm Beach.

At the time the Board of Conservation in Tallahassee okayed the offer of $1,037,000 it directed the West Palm Board to revise its offer to individuals to correct admitted errors and inequities in values.

Those revised figures have been given to individuals upon application - sometimes three or four - and are universally accepted by Island landowners as ridiculous in totals and unfair to every individual.

The values comparatively are ridiculous, inequitable and unbecoming as appraisal from any public body to a group of taxpayers and citizens - one individual says.

Are the inequities deliberate or the result of a bad deal? A widow and four minor children and to others, because of the activity in securing Cabinet prodding to the "mullish" attitude of the Board?

You judge from the facts!

By consent of the Board - it was a previous Board to this one, and therefore unmentionable to this one, the Island landowners secured an appraisal from Frank J. Anderson of West Palm Beach, while Central and South Florida employed two appraisers, one from Miami and one from Ft. Lauderdale, for themselves.

Of the two figures actually submitted - the Anderson appraisal and an estimate from their own appraisers - there is a difference in appraisal of each tract according to location and improvements. Anderson's figure is $2,093,327; the Board's estimate is $1,623,128 some 20% less; the average of the two is $1,858,327.

The Island landowners have never demanded asked or suggested any figure for sale or for a flowage easement, other than the proposal to accept 50% of the combined average appraisal whatever it might be - BEFORE ANY APPRAISAL WAS MADE!

They later agreed by individual signature to accept a flowage easement of one-half the appraised value, and allow that amount to apply to the final purchase price, when and if there is an "actual taking," and to assume all risks of water and element.

The insistence of the West Palm Board on their unprofessional appraisal of comparative values which proposes to determine just what each will be entitled to under the offer, is in spite of reliable figures officially in their files; so their offers are deliberate; their motives are a matter of bureaucratic mental gyrations.

The LeFitz Estate probably must accept whatever is offered them; the home has been idea Board may cogitate seriously foreclosed on and the family's effects of their actions tenure of realty is up to the on a widow and four minor present title holder, creditors of children, when they have the Estate are entitled legally done towards a settlement is at-in insist on some settlement. In the instance of the Govt. The Central & Southern Flor-er's Cabinet.

limited number of migrants and then be able to swing into action without waiting for state or federal help.

Topics already certain to be on the agenda Monday include employment, transportation, employment compensation, food, and possibly, public works.

Roberts pointed out that he didn't think the state would go into public works or unemployed persons at this time.

A Plan
One idea already under consideration is a compensation fund wherein the farmer as well as the laborer would pay a fractional amount per acre or box harvested. Any plan must serve agricultural interests before it can be passed by the state.

A federal plan would mean federal control, Roberts said, which is undesirable by many. Another plausible solution would be a grass-roots discussion with the working migrants to poll their opinions on solving their problems.

Roberts said the inter-state committee, of which he is a member, has a draft of a bill for Congress which would provide interest-free, long-term loans to farmers for housing units and is expected to be introduced before long.

The next step will be to employ the migrant's unemployment troubles, it is a step toward the overall solution of migrant troubles.

Hilarity Marks Lions Club Home Grown Program

Calling on home talent for an interlude to more serious programs of the club, the local Lions produced a skit Wednesday with only club members that brought chuckles to some, hearty laughs to others and downright hilarity from still others.

Trouble Hotard forgot the dwindling list of cars moved and slowly progressed from a knowing grin to a hearty belly laugh.

Legal Technician Cunningham as defender of the accused Ladies Night Committee was sentenced to be hanged for his poor showing.

Lion Scott, decked in regal splendor, robe and hat, acted as judge of the proceedings.

T. E. Hollingsworth, prosecutor, escaped with a censure and Bill Graber found their defense attorney bearing the stigma of a sentence.

The charge against the committee was calling off the proposed ladies night, "eliminating any chance for hungry Lions to gorge themselves on succulent steaks and satisfying salad, because they were afraid the ladies might take cold, thereby placing the health of the ladies above the needs of a ravenously hungry Lion group."

"Allying mankind's sympathy to overpower their better judgment," was included in the particulars.

Henry Earwood was excused as a jurymen when he answered a question with "I don't do it. I can get out of it with the comment that there was no desire to get him into bad habits."

Sugar Production Marks Its Progress During Florida Products Festival

The Florida sugar industry has come a long way from the primitive vats of the colonial 1700's to the vast and intricate machinery of the state's three modern plants that produce enormous tonnages annually. The sweetest product made by man from an agricultural product will star in the state's Sugar Corporation at Clewiston, annual Festival of Florida Products, February 27-March 8. The Florida companies are presently engaged in the production of commercial sugar. They are Okeelanta Sugar Refinery at South Bay, with a capacity of some 2,000 tons of cane daily; the United States Sugar Corporation at Clewiston, with a capacity of about 6,500 tons every 24 hours and the Falmes Sugar Producers Association, at Falmes, with 1,200 tons of cane daily. During 1956, a total of 1,196,903 tons of cane was processed from 30,122 acres harvested for sugar, resulting in an average yield of slightly over 39 tons per acre for the state.

The Florida sugar industry, during 1957, produced approximately 150,000 tons of sugar valued at about $120.00 per ton at the mill.

As a by-product of the sugar industry, approximately 8,900,000 gallons of molasses were produced during 1957, valued at about 15 cents per gallon at the mill. Practically all of this molasses will be sold as cattle feed.

Almost all sugar is produced from cane grown in the Florida Everglades region. From the beginning of an experiment, just 35 years ago, the industry has advanced to planting of about 40,000 acres. The rich black earth of the Florida Sugar Bowl is so productive that Everglades cane often grows 20 feet high and process from 40 to 80 tons of cane per acre.

Cement Industry Boosts Economy Of Our State

Florida's industrial and population influx has done much to boost the state's cement industry production skyward.

The construction industry used a total of 9,499,000 barrels of domestic cement during 1956, a six per cent increase over 1955. The industry is being featured during the Festival of Florida Products, February 27-March 8.

Ranked in ninth place in the nation from 1952 through 1955 in total volume of cement consumed, the Florida ranking was upped to eighth place in 1956.

The cement industry will receive a powerful shot in the arm when two huge plants, with a combined 4,500,000 annual barrel output, will begin operating in Dade County in 1958. The State's first lightweight aggregate plant, to be opened in 1958 near Bartow, will use phosphate waste. The plant may be a forerunner to a multi-million dollar a year cement industry ranking only below tourism, citrus and phosphate production.

Polk County's phosphate plants, which produce some 80 per cent of the world's phosphate annually, have been throwing away up to 14,000,000 tons of waste each year. All of the phosphate waste may be utilized in the new industry. The material is said to be light, durable and attractive.

FLORIDA uses more fertilizer per-acre on her crop lands than any other state in the nation with an annual fertilizer bill of over $40,000,000. The phosphate dryer and grinding loading mill represents this tremendous Florida industry, spotlighted during the Festival of Florida Products, February 27-March 8, 1958, which mined a total of $132,955,000 worth of minerals during 1956.

Glades Juvenile

prizes the majority of our cases, much of our work is concerned with dependent children. By dependent children I mean to say those who are neglected—physically or morally by their parents, or those children who find themselves in circumstances brought about through no fault of their own.

The present juvenile law was enacted in 1950 by the State Legislature. Florida realized the need for a modern system of correcting the youthful offender.

The entire philosophy of penology and correction had, at that time, shown strong tendencies of shifting from one of punishment to one of rehabilitation and adjustment.

This law placed the jurisdiction of any child under the age of 17, who is declared delinquent or dependent, in the hands of the juvenile courts. Each county was authorized to establish a juvenile court to deal with these problems. Many counties had maintained facilities of Juvenile Courts several years prior to the enactment of this law. Palm Beach County was one of these.

Palm Beach County's Juvenile Court is headed by County Judge Richard P. Robbins. The counseling staff is composed of five assistant counselors supervised by a chief counselor. Each assistant counselor has an area of the county in which he works and handles only certain cases.

Area Covered
My area is the section of the county west of twenty-mile bend from the Martin County Line to the Broward and Hendry County Lines, with my office located in the Belle Glade Police Station. All cases in this area are referred to me.

If the case involves a female who will require counseling, I further refer the case to one of our two female counselors. In this one exception, I process all types of cases originating in this area.

To briefly state our duties, I could say that we receive complaints from various sources, conduct investigations, when necessary, decide on court action or unofficial action by the counselor; take the case before the judge, presenting our evidence and investigation report along with a recommendation to the court for disposition of the case.

Included in our duties are follow-up studies on previous court cases, and counseling the child on probation as well as his family when we feel this to be necessary.

What's Next

In future articles I plan to describe, among other things, the roles played by law enforcement agencies, schools, and welfare agencies in conjunction with our work; the purpose of probation; State and County Institutions for child care and correction; and various other undecided topics.

I hope to include several case histories to illustrate certain points. I feel obligated to apologize in the beginning for a lack of continuity which will be apparent from article to article. I hope, however, that you, the reader, will learn of our mission in dealing with the young and of our efforts in attempting to prevent a youngster from becoming one of the prison statistics which reflect so many human errors, suffering, and misunderstanding.

In closing, I invite the public to contact me with any juvenile problems of which you have knowledge. I welcome your comments, questions, and constructive criticism of my system which is not altogether perfect, but which we strive to better.

There is always a point to our paragraphs; even if it is the period at the end of the sentence.

THE FAST GROWING Florida chemical industry comes in for its share of the limelight of the Festival of Florida Products, February 27-March 8, 1958. The state stands second only to that of Texas and rose in value from 26th to 4th place in the nation between 1953 and 1956. The state's powerful attraction for scientific and skilled workers has recently been recognized by industry. Sixteen companies, during 1956, established engineering and research operations in various sections of the state. The carbon dioxide removal units, at Pensacola, is dramatically portrayed against a clear Florida sky.
